KENTUCKYCOAL OUTPUT

Western District Will Show Increase.—Decrease for State.

STRIKES CAUSED THE DECREASE

Louisville, Ky., April 11.—"The coal output of Kentucky for the year of 1904 shows a decrease of about 90,000 tons from that of the previous year," said Prof. C. J. Norwood, director of the Kentucky Geological Survey, while in Louisville yesterday. The report for 1904 is not quite ready for publication, but Prof. Norwood was able to estimate the total production, which is about 7,108,500 tons.

"The decrease is caused mainly by strikes," said Prof. Norwood. "The output in the southwestern part of the State was greater than the year before, but the closing of the mines in the northeastern section, on account of the miners going out, brought down the average. The decrease may be accounted for also by the fact that in 1903 the Kentucky fields were benefited by the strikes in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania."

The State survey will issue statements this year of the oil and gas in Kentucky and of the clay deposits. The oil and gas report is being prepared by J. B. Hoening and the clay deposit report by Joseph H. Gardner. These will be ready for publication in a short time and will be of much interest.

RWARD FOR ARREST AND CONVICTION OF VANDALS.

Beautiful Beds of Tulips and Hyacinths Denued in J. R. Rank's Yard.

A species of wanton vandalism, which was practiced last year by some miscreant in Earlington, was repeated this week in an intensified degree that calls for vigorous prosecution if the offender can be apprehended. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rash are the sufferers at this time, and very beautiful beds of hyacinths and tulips which had cost labor and money and time to produce, are denuded of their blossoms. On Saturday night a raid was made on their flower beds and seven choicest tulips and five best hyacinths were taken.

Monday night the beds were entirely stripped, perhaps by the same thieves. Language cannot be too strong to characterize such acts, and if it is done by some untutored savage who does not realize the law of men and deum he should be taught a severe lesson at once.

Mr. Rash authorizes THE BEE to say that he will pay a suitable reward for the arrest and conviction of the perpetrators of this outrage.

Lot Bought in Madisonville on Which to Erect New Building.

Part of the Dempsey lot across Sugg street from the Lucile Hotel at Madisonville has been purchased, through Geo. R. Lynn the real estate man, for the Young Men's Christian Association. On this lot the proposed new building will be erected at a cost of about $15,000 and it is predicted that work will begin before a great while.

Work of raising the substructures for the building fund has progressed for some time and most of the money has been raised.

WRONG BABY POISONED.

P. Nance's Child Instead of P. Hawkins'—Reporter Fired.

The report of child poisoning which appears on the first page of Second Section of this issue is erroneous in one essential in particular. The article poisons the wrong baby and there is no Hawkins' child of that age. The unfortunate little one, whose recovery we are delighted to record, is the child of Mr. and Mrs. P. Nance. The error occurred through the fact that both families live in the same house and members of both families have been ill. However, the reporter who wrote the erroneous report was fired before this issue was completed and is now seeking a position on one of the "yellow's" of a big city, where such small thing as accuracy does not matter, so the work is sensational.

NO MORE STEAMING

For English Markets by Kentucky Tobacco Producers.

Louisville, Ky., April 11.—The Courier-Journal says today:

A cable message was received in Louisville from London yesterday announcing that there would be no alteration in the tobacco duty. This message followed the reading of the budget.

This announcement is of particular interest to Kentucky, since thousands of pounds of tobacco have been shipped to England last year. When the advance of three cents was made on strips about a year ago a rebate was allowed on tobacco already in England. Other concessions were hoped for so that stripping could be continued in this country, but the announcement yesterday that there would be no alteration in the schedule means that stemming for the English market is a thing of the past in Kentucky.

UNCLE DANIEL BROWN.

Old Confederate Veteran and ex-Jailer Dies at Madisonville.

Many people throughout Hopkins county regret the news of Uncle Daniel Brown's death, which occurred at his home in Madisonville Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Uncle Daniel died in his eightieth year. He was a member of the Primitive Baptist church and a beloved veteran of the Confederacy. Several years since he served as jailer of Hopkins County. The funeral occurred Monday afternoon and the body was interred at Odd Fellows' cemetery.

LIGHTNING BURNS BARN.

A. T. Kittinger Loses $1,200 by Fire Burning at Grapevine Country.

A. T. Kittinger, one of the best farmers of the Grapevine country, lost a barn, a buggy, hay and grain, amounting in value to about $1,000 by fire Monday. The fire was caused by lightning which struck the barn during the electric storm about noon on Monday. The storm lasted only a few minutes and passed around to the north of Earlington with a magnificent electrical display. No damage was done here.

Dixon to Have Canning Factory.

A cannery factory has been organized at Dixon, Ky. The company has a capital stock of $10,000 and is already building its plant. The factory will operate this spring and summer.

INSPECTION

Earlington's Crack Military Company Stands Ordeal in Fine Form.

THEY ARE OUT FOR THE BANNER.

The local military movements of last Friday and Saturday stirred considerable interest among the populace, especially with the wives, sweethearts and personal friends of individual members of Company G. Friday night Lieutenant Litsey, of Lawrenceburg, held a school of instruction at the Armory, preparatory for inspection which was to follow on Saturday night. The Lieutenant did not talk for publication but is known that he expressed himself privately in terms of high commendation of the company.

The boys have been very busy burnishing up their arms and getting everything in prime shape for the annual inspection and were in fine form on Saturday night when that event took place. Capt. Saville, Twenty-seventh Infantry, located at Fort Thomas, Ky., was the inspecting officer, detailed by the hands of the Governor. But there was an air about it all that impressed the observer that Company G was standing a tip top inspection, and Capt. Price and his lieutenants looked proud and pretty well satisfied. The boys have not been at all backward about working for a good report and would as soon carry the banner as not. The Bee believes that the company that beats them will know that they have been at work.

ODD FELLOWS ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. S. F. Fowler, of Madisonville, Will Lecture at M. E. Church.

On Tuesday night, April 25th, St. Bernard Lodge No. 250 I. O. O. F., will celebrate the anniversary of their organization, which occurred many years ago in this busy town. It is a custom always observed by the local lodge. On that occasion the Rev. S. F. Fowler, pastor of the Christian church at Madisonville, will deliver a lecture on Odd Fellowship. The lecture will be delivered at the M. E. church, on the hill, and the public is cordially invited to attend. Mr. Fowler is one of the most pleasing and talented speakers in this section.

GOLDEN CROSS

Grand Lodge of Kentucky in Session Here Today.

PUBLIC MEETING THIS MORNING.

Statistics at end of 1904:
Founded in 1878.
Ten Grand Commanderies.
550 Subordinate Commanderies.
19,700 Members.
$16,191,491 in Benefits Disbursed Since Organization.

Yesterday the reception committee of the Golden Cross Commandery met every train and were busy receiving delegates to the meeting of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky, which convenes here this morning. The committee is meeting the early morning trains today and taking immediate care of the numerous delegates and grand officers from all over Kentucky and the Supreme Grand Commandery offices.

Supreme Commander J. P. Burlingame, of Providence, R. I., expected to be here but has written saying that Supreme Prelate, the Rev. E. L. Dolph will fill his place. Supreme Keeper of Records, W. R. Cooper of Knoxville, Tenn., and Supreme Treasurer, Jno. N. Ehle, of Washington, D. C., will attend the Grand Commandery meeting.

The program for the public meeting at Temple Theatre at 9 o'clock this morning was published in full in the last issue of THE BEE.

The reception committee is composed of: Mesdames Emma B. Twyman, Sallie E. Stevens, Blanche Wyatt, Kate Young; Messrs. J. T. Ezell, J. B. Wyatt, Jno. R. Evans, J. E. Evans, A. R. Baugh, Jno. W. Twyman, Eugene Oldham, Thos. Young, Jr.

The local commandery has an enthusiastic membership of more than one hundred.

The Grand Commandery meetings will be held in the Masonic Temple, the Masonic quarters having been tendered for this occasion.

FARMERS

Big Meeting at Slaughtersville Helps Along Organization of Tobacco Growers.

Slaughtersville, Ky., April 8th.

Attendance was large at the meeting of tobacco growers of Hopkins and Webster counties held here today. Among the speakers of note who addressed the farmers were Hon. A. O. Stanley, of Henderson and Hon. Jno. Wesley Gaines, of Tennessee.

The meeting was presided over by Hon. W. E. Bourland, of Dixon.

Seabree, Ky.—The Webster County Tobacco Growers' Association Committee has decided that the tobacco pledged to the association is to be prized at Seabree. About 2,500,000 pounds have been pledged. Fred Powell, of this place secured the contract to put up the tobacco.

For tobacco prizes and delivered at Seabree depot he is to receive $1.35 per hundred for his work, provided as much as one million pounds is handled. If less than this quantity he is to be paid $1.45 per hundred. If the tobacco is striped he will receive $1.65 per hundred.

Farmers are to receive advance of 60 per cent of market value of tobacco deposited and to pay 6 per cent interest on this advance until the tobacco is sold.

DR. JACKSON COMING.

From Massachusetts to Make His Home in Earlington Again.

Several days ago notice was received from Dr. A. W. Jackson saying that he would come to Earlington about the 15th of this month. He comes to again take up the practice of medicine here, where he spent some fifteen years in the past. He will take the position of chief of medical staff for the St. Bernard Mining Company at this place. Since leaving Earlington in 1897 Dr. Jackson has lived in Massachusetts, first in the suburban districts of Boston and later at Milford, a wealthy manufacturing city of 12,000 inhabitants. Dr. Jackson has always stood in the front rank of his profession and, aside from all consideration of personal friendships which the Doctor and his family left behind when they journeyed East, the people of Earlington know what they are getting when Dr. Jackson comes again. He has not indicated anything about when Mrs. Jackson and their family will come to Earlington. But the presumption is that they will be along before a great while.

MR. BERNARD N. FARREN.

Pioneer Railroad Builder and Coal Operator Visits Earlington.

Mr. B. N. Farren, of Philadelphia, was the guest of Mr. B. Atkinson this week and last, leaving for home yesterday morning. Mr. Farren first came to this section thirty-six years ago as a pioneer railroad builder and shortly afterwards became interested in the coal fields of Hopkins county and opened the first mine of the old St. Bernard Coal Co., at Earlington. Mr. Farren came first to Kentucky to take charge of construction of the railroad line between Madisonville and Hopkinsville, which he put through under great difficulties, finally driving the last spike on the Petersburg hill.

Mr. Farren later devoted much time and capital to the development of the mines here and has always felt a great interest in Earlington and its institutions, having, among other things been a liberal benefactor to the Catholic church and school here. His visits have been less frequent in the past few years, owing to more important interests that have demanded his attention in the East, but he always manifests the greatest interest in the progress of Earlington and her people.

Vote for Church Union.

Nashville, Tenn., April 9.—Cumberland Presbyterian headquarters has received telegraphic advices today that presbyteries at Tullare, Cal., and Bonham, Tex., have voted in favor of union with the Presbyterian church. This makes 55 votes for the proposition, which requires 58 to carry, with a number of presbyteries yet to be heard from.

MRS. WALTER EVANS.

Wife of Federal Judge Dies in Louisville After Long Illness.

Mrs. Louis Evans, wife of Judge Walter Evans of the United States district court for the Western Kentucky district, died at Louisville Saturday after being an invalid for a number of years. She had been very ill for weeks. Judge and Mrs. Evans lived, years ago, at Hopkinsville, but their home has been at Louisville for many years.

EASTER MORNING.SYDNEY C. MOORE DIES.

Prominent Citizen of Madisonville Passes Away Aged Eighty.

Mr. Sydney C. Moore, for nineteen years one of the best and most substantial citizens of Madisonville, and a citizen of Kentucky for about fifty-six years, died at his Madisonville home Saturday morning about 7 o'clock. He had been in poor health for a long time and died of heart failure shortly after rising that morning.

Mr. Moore was eighty years old. He was a native of North Carolina, from which state he moved to Slaughtersville, Ky., in 1849.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. M. Larimer, of the Christian church, in the Old School Presbyterian church, where worshipped the congregation of which Mr. Moore was a leading member. The deceased had himself made all arrangements for his funeral and every detail was as he had wished. Only the bereaved widow, who had traveled the whole road of life with him, survives.

PROBING STANDARD OIL CO.

Commissioner of Corporations Garfield Begins Work in Kansas.

With Three Special Agents He Is Gathering Data Concerning the Oil Business in the State.

Frankfort, Ky., April 12.—J. R. Garfield, chief of the Bureau of Investigations, has started his work of investigating the Standard Oil Co. in Kansas. Three special agents of the department are here with Mr. Garfield. They are going through the records in the office of the secretary of state, gathering data concerning the various companies doing business in the state. Charles Eari, one of the agents, held a conference with Gov. Hoch, at which various methods of securing information were touched upon. Commissioner Garfield also visited State Auditor David W. Bell, held a prolonged conference with him. Mr. Dean has received certain orders from the department of justice in regard to the oil fight which he will not divulge. The federal grand jury is also in session here at this time. It is thought that the interests of the officials to bring some of the evidence before the grand jury, but the officers refuse to discuss the matter in any way.

KENTUCKY GETTING BUSY.

Frankfort, Ky., April 12.—About four hundred indictments charging the Standard Oil Co. with failure to take out a peddler's license as required by law, Kentucky statutes, were returned by the Franklin county grand jury. Similar indictments have been turned recently in several counties of the state.

STATE DEVELOPMENT.

Plans are making for a big and busy Kentucky State Development convention to be held in Louisville early in October. The entire management of that convention has been turned over to a remarkably well equipped committee of the Louisville Commercial club, of which Mr. A. Y. Ford, who made such excellent record as president of the Kentucky Commission at the World's Fair, is chairman. Associated with him are such well known business and professional men as L. J. Irwin, J. A. Boyd, W. A. Brown, Clarence Daliam, David B. G. Rose, Thomas C. Timberlake and others. At a meeting of the committee held Tuesday the following resolution was passed.

Resolved, That every county in the State, now without an organization, having for its purpose local prosperity and State development, is respectfully urged to organize without delay, and arrange to send active representative men to the State Development Convention, which meets in Louisville in October next. United forces will hasten the greater Kentucky.

Delegates to this convention will consist of members sent from commercial organizations, delegates from the counties named by the County Judges, representatives of the cities named by the Mayors, members of the General Assembly and the nominees of all parties for membership in the General Assembly, Senators and Congressmen, the Governor and the State of officials.

Mining, railroads, agriculture, horticulture, forestry, all the great commercial interests of Kentucky, will be given appropriate division of time at the proposed convention.

Hopkins County and the chief towns of the county will be well and properly represented. There is no sort of doubt of this, although Hopkins is far and away ahead of most Kentucky counties in the matter of development and productiveness. In very truth there are many who have come and are coming to realize, some slowly and painfully, that the greatness of Hopkins county consists not in her devotion to partisan politics of the petty variety nor in her production of eminent statesmen, so much as in her splendid mineral wealth and its extensive and increasing development; in her broad agricultural acres and the adoption of better methods of farming and stock raising; in her railroads; in her depleted timber, and its wise protection and increase; in the field she offers to manufacturers because of her inexhaustible supply of cheap fuel.

The superior resources and development of Hopkins county is an extra incentive to our representative men to take part in the proposed State Development Convention.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

It is a fixed and necessary rule that our correspondence will be published in THE BEE unless it is dated and signed by the writer. We must know who writes items that are published. It often happens that through the lack of a proper signature, a very good news letter must be consigned to the waste basket.

The work of all our correspondents is fully appreciated, and we are glad to say they are improving in numbers and efficiency and are making a fine showing of interesting neighborhood news in THE BEE.

Send on all the news friends, being careful not to write too much of a trivially personal character. As far as possible give all facts in connection with any happening and put some meat into every item.

The news item which has a personal flavor is the best and most interesting, usually, but it should be weightier than the record of the visit of one neighbor to another, or a statement that "Sallie Jones was in town shopping yesterday."

The Madisonville Progress is out with its first newsy and attractively arranged number. Editor McDonald shows that he is a practical printer and newspaper man by the first issue. We extend the hand of fellowship to the new paper.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK.

The story is told of an old bachelor who bought a pair of socks and found attached to one a paper with these words: "I am a young lady of twenty and would like to correspond with a bachelor with a view to matrimony." The name and address were given. The bachelor wrote and in a few days got this reply: "Mamma was married twenty years ago. Evidently the merchant of whom you bought those socks did not advertise, or he would have sold them long ago. My mother handed me your letter and said possibly I might suit, I am eighteen." — Gloversville (N. Y.) Daily Leader.

CASTLEBERRY.

Mr. Richard Barfitt, of Pod, and two Mr. Browns, of Clady, brother and brothers-in-law of Mr. Jesse Ratliff, who was killed by a freight train on the I. C. R. R. on the morning of the 3rd inst., attended the funeral at Kutawa on the 4th inst.

Mr. Chester Porter, one of our most enterprising young men, is critically ill at this time, having been severely attacked with typhoid fever about ten day ago. Young Mr. Porter is proprietor of the Porter Mines and has sold a considerable amount of coal to the South Christian farmers during the year, as well as furnishing the local demand for coal.

Work stock in great demand in this section and selling for satisfactory prices.

Mr. Shack Williams sold a 2-year-old filly to Mr. Garfield Dunning last week and Mr. H. C. Brasher delivered a fine mare to Mr. John Wilson of Eva, yesterday; that Mr. Wilson bought last week of Mr. Brasher. Had quite a storm of wind and hail yesterday at 11:30. No serious damage however. Had a nice rain fast night.

Forget About Your Stomach.

If your digestion is bad the vital organs of your body are not fed and nourished as they should be, they grow weak and liable to disease. Dr. D. S. Dugay's Cure digests what you eat, cures indigestion and all stomach troubles. You forget you ever took it taking it. This is because it gets a rest—recuperates and gradually grows so strong and healthy that it cures the disease. Dr. Dugay, Balacock, Amherst, Minn., says: "I have taken a great many remedies for indigestion but have found nothing equal to Dr. Dugay's Cure." Kodol digests what you eat cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, belching, heartburn and all stomach trouble. It prepares the result of many years of research.

EMURE and devout set the Puritan maid in the governor's high-backed pew, thinking perchance that the burdens laid on herself were more than a few. For to eyes as bright as a crystal spring where the bubbles lie smooth and white An Easter bonnet would just be the thing to give them the greatest delight.

II.

THOUGH feathers and flowers were tabooed, being Easter, the bonnets were there. And she longed to look round, but the minister stood close by on the pulpit stair. Pretty? That goes without saying, of course, where two dimples played hide and seek. The one in the saucy, upturned chin and the other on rosy cheek.

III.

AT the first it seemed strange to find herself there, alone in that big, square pew. And directly in front of the rest of the folks, though no one was there who knew that the governor's wife had been ill through the week, and, of all the pews in the church. To have that of the Moffats left empty would seem like Easter tide left in the lurch.

IV.

NOW, her mother had said as she bade her goodby: "You will see that no sign of complaint is made of your trifling or want of respect for the words of our pastor, a saint who has ministered long in all holy things. And be sure to remember the text. Keep your eyes where they should be, not wandering off." But whatever there might have come next

HE TURNED TO THE PAGE.

V.

WAS lost on Miss Catherine. "Why, there is the bell," she said as she ran through the aisle. For to walk up that aisle with every one there would have suited her least of all. And, lo! as the service began there stepped right into that great square pew.

A gentleman—well, he had been a guest, but not more than a month or two.

VI.

ND the sexton should never have put him there to embarrass the lady so. But she still sought her text as if she believed he had entered the pew below.

As a master of course she would miss it then, and what could the gentleman do in a case of that kind—keep himself to himself, and be in her father's pew?

VII.

A BIBLE lay ready at hand, which he took to show that he knew what to do. For he turned to the page that he wanted at once, writing, "Read it; it's John fifth of two." Then, laying it carelessly down on the seat, the "lastly" was heard from the desk.

And the people made ready to stand on their feet, as singing the hymn would come next.

VIII.

ND for this as the congregation arose and the quiet of the school room was broken. I read, "I beseech thee, lady, but do not propose a new commandment to thee, for this is an old one, as every one knows, That we love one another," and said, Determined he should not outwit her thus, Marked hers in Ruth, at the sixteenth verse:

"Where thou goest I will go,
And where thou lodgest I will also make my dwelling place,
And with thee I will rest, lie,
So I with thee may serve thy God,
And they who claim these nears of kin
Will not refuse to take me in."

Just a Word ABOUT SALES

A BE LINCOLN said, "You can fool some of the people all of the time and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." He was right. Nearly everybody knows that an annual clearance sale is made to dispose of dirty old shelf worn goods, out of style, and therefore nearly valueless. These sales are intended to fool people. Then some stores have sales of odds and ends bought from factories at low prices because they are scraps and are no account. Don't be fooled. In our sale new goods, up to date stock and stylish goods are cut.

MINING NOTES.

LARGEST SHIPMENT OF COAL
For One Day Starts Down the Ohio.—Eight
Million Bushels are in Tow.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 11.—The greatest shipment of coal to leave Pittsburg in one day is expected to out tomorrow. It will be a total of 8,000,000 bushels and will the greatest fleet ever sent down the Ohio river. Many other towboats are coming up stream with empties and will likely get away with tugs during the week. There are ten more towboats in the harbor and it is thought that all of the coal awaiting shipment will go out. The coal is consigned to Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans, the greater part of it to the latter point.

COMPRESSED AIR PLANT

Will be Installed at Commodore Mining Company's Plant Near Marion, Ky.

The Commodore Mining Company, of which William Miller and John Scheas, capitalists of Louisville, are president and vice president respectively, has recently closed a contract with the Ingerson-Sargent Drill Co., for a complete compressed air drilling plant, consisting of the latest improved machinery for their mine near Marion, Ky.

The compressor is of the simple, straight line type, and has a capacity of six drills.

The drills are of the percussion type, and are known as the "Little Jap," having a capacity of from 60 to 70 feet of lineal feet of hole per day, and are dressed especially for blocking lead, zinc and fluor spar work.

These drills, operated by compressed air, together with the hoisting plant which the Commodore Company has ordered,

GREAT LOOM END AND BARGAIN SALE

This great sale always means remarkably low prices, but this season the bargains are greater than ever. Hundreds have already visited our sale, but to those who have not visited us yet, we say come! Also a few words to those who have come. This sale was not gotten up in a hurry; it is not an accident nor a chance shot; it is the result of months of planning and careful buying of from manufacturers of dependable merchandise. But we say to you all—at the prices—all our great supply will naturally go quickly. Economy knocks at your door. Will you heed the call. It will be months before you'll again have such money-saving opportunities. Again we say, come and buy for future as well as well as for present needs. Remember our sale will continue until April 22.

will give a capacity of 3 to 4 feet depth of shaft per day, or equal to a week's sinking with the ordinary methods now used in the district.

It is the expectation to sink the Commodore shaft at least 500 feet before stopping, which means much in the development of that district, as the Columbia shaft, which is less than 200 feet, is now the deepest shaft in the district.

The Royal Coal Company, whose mine is near Marionville, will begin the construction of a store for the convenience of their employees about May 1st. The structure will be located on the lot south of Wooten & Co.'s livery stable and will be two stories high and about 120 feet in length.

Lawson Miles had the misfortune to have his foot mangled by being caught between the bumpers of a car at No. 11 mine last Thursday.

It is estimated by experts that the area of American coal fields at present open to mining is more than five times as great as that of the coal fields of England, France, Germany and Belgium, the great coal producing countries of Europe. While practically all the available coal areas opened to mining, ours have scarcely been estimated.

Pittsburg, April 11.—W. R. Woodford, vice president of the Pittsburg Coal Company, confirmed the report today that the contract between the United States Steel Corporation and the Pittsburg Coal Company, whereby the latter agrees to furnish the steel corporation with its entire supply of coal for the next twenty-five years had been closed. This is the largest coal contract ever made in this country. The contract becomes effective at once.

Mr. Ellsworth Turner, who has been employed by the St. Bernard Mining Company for sometime, has resigned and has moved his family to Greencastle, Ky., where he will make his future home.

Going Home on a Visit.
Washington, April 12.—Sir Morton P. Downes, the British ambassador, will sail on the Return, April 29, for a fortnight's visit to London. The ambassador is a personal friend of Lord Lansdowne, and he will have several calls on him and the minister for foreign affairs.

Victory for the Corporations.
Wheeling, W. Va., April 12.—The state has abandoned its position that the new tax on oil and coal gas households can be collected for five years back. This ruling, to a large extent, does away with the probability of a legal battle and is a victory for the corporations.

THE FAR EASTERN WAR.

The Mystery of Vice-Admiral Rojenski's Whereabouts Remains Unsolved.

London, April 12.—The mystery of Vice-Admiral Rojenski's whereabouts is still unsolved, and speculation on the possibilities of the situation is at the knees. The hypothesis of the newspapers this morning is that the battleship slipped past Singapore last night with lights out.

The Daily Telegraph's Singapore correspondent, cabling under date of April 11, says:

"All reports to the contrary notwithstanding, only one battleship, the Sibopol Veliki, passed here Saturday. No ships of the Tsarist type were with the squadron."

REFUSED BY CHINA.

China Absolutely Refuses to Loan a Neoprene to Russia.

London, April 12.—The correspondent at Kohi of the Daily Telegraph says:

"A telegram from Pekin states that Prince Minister Lesser asked China to lend Russia a port in Peking (Peiping), but China absolutely refused."

BOWEN'S ACTION JUSTIFIED.

United States Minster will Not Be Reunited From His Post at Caracas.

Washington, April 12.—Minister Bowen's mail advises as to the intervention of President Cárdenas of Venezuela and the reply of the State Department to the proposal to arbitrate differences were received by the state department Tuesday afternoon and were transmitted to Mr. Taft, the acting secretary of state, for his information.

As to the status of the further fight on the Venezuelan situation, Minister Bowen will retain his present position and will not be recalled. He will remain at Caracas unless President Cárdenas gives him his passports or asks this government to do so.

President Cárdenas's reply closely borders on insolence. He declared he would not withdraw the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Co.'s case from the Venezuelan courts, and would not submit the Olcott case to arbitration if the whole American army and navy came to Venezuela.

We are having a fine Sunday school at present.

Sam Asheby and wife, of the country, spent Sunday with Alfred Fletcher and wife.

Irene Coffins and Henrietta Collins were here Sunday.

Mrs. Capp Bass, of Nortonville, was the guest of Sallie Eaves Sunday.

Press Logan and wife, of Earlinton, were guests of Alfred Fletcher and wife Sunday.

Della Campbell and Mr. Massie were guests of Georgia Eaves Sunday evening.

A Tried and True Friend.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing coughs, colds, and grippe and whooping cough so long that it is well known to all and true friend to the many who use it. Mrs. Gertrude E. Farnor, Marion, Ind., says: "Coughing and I have been down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. After trying a number of remedies to no avail, I took One Minute Cough Cure, and my cough is better than this standard remedy."

"Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists."

Hungry eating has ruined many a man's stomach. The digestive-destroying process is gradually maiming our system. But it is only a short time until the liver balks, the digestive organs give way, and almost countless are the men who endeavor to economize time at the expense of his health.

A torpid liver causes a quartaining of the entire system. It attacks the heart, lungs, eyes, brain, kidneys, and affords them full play, inviting some serious illness.

In families where August Flower is used, a single drop of the flower oil is known as we are all stomach ailments, as well as indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, headaches, and kidney and bladder afflictions.

No one will be satisfied to be without this standard remedy.

"Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists."

COLORED COLUMN

EDITED BY J. H. GOUGH.

The State Grand Chief of the A. O. of G. S. and D. of S. Rev. S. M. Watts, pays his annual visit to Moose Elkin Lodge No. 15 of this place Monday night. The committee on reception left nothing undone on their part to make the visit of the Chief Executive of our order of the Sons of Kemet, to feel comfortable from the start. Watts is from the blue glass regions and possesses that high dignity that befits all true Kentuckians. After private instruction by the chief the good sisters spread a table, which was laden with many good things. After one hour and a half of enjoyment the members dispersed and went to their different homes. Quite a number of the Madisonville members were out. Rev. Watts left Monday for Providence.

The wife of Mr. Bledsoe, and the daughter of Jack Hoffman, died Sunday morning of heart failure.

Rev. C. C. Carter preached the funeral sermon in the cemetery here.

Exercise exercises at Zion church the 5th Sunday promises to exceed all previous exercises. See program in next week's issue.

The annual carnival of the A. M. Zion church will commence May 11th last.

Pet Riggins is on the mend.

Rev. S. M. Watts was the guest of W. M. Clark, while visiting our city.

The ladies of the Southside Thimble club, entertained their husbands Friday evening at the residence of John Bailey. The features of the evening was the piecing of a block of a quilt by each gentleman present, for a prize, in which William Killenbeck won the honors, while John Bailey came in second.

After this contest refreshments were served, consisting of salads and sherbets and ice cream.

This form of entertainment was enjoyed by the men present better than piecing quilts. Those present were: Rev. Keeton and wife, John Bailey, William Killenbeck and wife, Jacob Boggers and wife; — Mason and wife, John Porter and wife; Masterson, Jane Slaughter, Chas. King, Leavenworth; Misses Minnie Slaton, Jane Allen, Muriel Rolliford, Jane Bell Maso, Ella Slaughter and Lillian Killenbeck; Clarence Bailey.

Who Owns the Railroads

H. T. Newcomb, of the District of Columbia Bar, has compiled statistics showing that 5,174,718 depositors in savings banks of six eastern states are directly interested in the joint ownership of $442,854,086 of steam railroad securities, that insurance companies doing business in Massachusetts hold $845,889,088 of steam railroad stocks and bonds, and 74 educational institutions depend on $47,498,827 invested in similar securities for a portion of their income. Other fiduciary institutions own enough railroad securities to bring such holdings up to more than a billion and a half dollars, about one-sixth of the entire capital invested in railroad property. These investments represent the savings of the masses, there being twenty million holders of life insurance policies in the country, as many more of fire insurance policies, and an even greater number of depository in banking and trust institutions, where investments are largely in railroad securities.

A meeting of the citizens of Morganfield was held to discuss and take action on a proposition submitted by J. D. Wheatcroft to build a railroad from Morganfield to Providence. Mr. Wheatcroft proposed to build the road provided the citizens of the town will subscribe $50,000 first mortgage gold bonds.

What is good for the farmer is good for the railroad. The recent rains will make the crops grow, which when marketed will mean something for the railroads.

Engineer Charles Sursa was struck in the face at Carmi, recently by a piece of roofing that projected from a car in a Big Four train, knocking him down in the cab of his engine. He sprang to his feet, but fell again, having been dazed by the blow. He, however, managed to lift himself up to the brake valve, and stopped the train just in time to avoid a collision with the Big Four train.

The management of the Erie Railroad has taken a new method of showing consideration to their employees—it is in publishing a periodical for them, called the "Erie Railroad Employees' Magazine." It is published under the direction of President Underwood. The publication is, as its name indicates, a magazine for the entertainment and education of the employees, and its object is to bring the employee closer to his fellow employee and closer to the Erie road. We predict that it will not be long until other roads will do likewise.

Engineer S. K. Price is spending a few weeks with his mother at Atlanta, Ga.

Orely Claybourne is off on a vacation at Mt. Vernon, Ill., while business is dull.

The Henderson bridge is to be given a new coat of paint in the near future.

Engineer W. R. Crowder has gone south on a fishing expedition.

F. T. Brown, foreman of the boiler shop at Howell, will spend Sunday at Louisville with his family.

Now is the time for the railroad boys to take a vacation, while there is a slump in business.

Trainmaster M. Seager left Tuesday for Portland, Ore., via New Orleans. He expects to be absent two months and will visit several other points while away.

E. L. Wise is acting trainmaster and W. K. Griffith chief dispatcher during the absence of Mr. Seager.

Operator Robt. Jackson, who is in Hot Springs, Ark., for his health, writes to friends that he is getting along nicely and is improving in health.

A wreck occurred on the N. & D. division Tuesday near Lynnville, Tenn. Passenger train No. 1 southbound jumped the track on account of switch set wrong. No one was injured except the mail clerk and he not seriously. Trainmaster Seager of this place, and Matt Ray, traveling salesman of the St. Bernard Mining Company, were both on the train.

Dispatchers Elmer Orr, Tom Featherstone and Jack Martin are anxiously awaiting an opportunity to go fishing.

DRANK COCAINE.

Child Nineteen Months' Old Swallowed Poison Mixture, but Was Saved.

DEADLY DRUG WAS IN EYE WATER.

A nineteen months' old child of P. Hawkins swallowed the contents of a bottle of eye water Saturday morning about 6:30 o'clock and was saved by only a narrow margin after hours of work by the doctor. The bottle contained four grains of cocaine and one drachm of adrenalin, enough poison to have killed several adults. The mother administered milk and mustard water at once in an effort to clear the stomach but did not succeed. This, however, diluted the poison and helped along the rescue work. Dr. Johnson reached the child about twenty-five minutes after the poison had been swallowed and administered a powerful emetic, with but little result, and had to resort to the stomach pump. Morphine and other antidotes were given and after three or four hours the little one came through all right. The child had just picked up the bottle, which was left in its reach, and drunk the contents before anyone could interfere.

"Hell for Sartin."

W. S. Sterett, now editor of the Greenwood (Miss.) Commonwealth and formerly editor of many other papers, being the most extensive newspaper widower in the country, has invented a shell which will make war too horrible to contemplate, says the Owensboro Inquirer. The aforementioned shell may be fired to any distance, and when it strikes the ground will send up a flag, to denote its location. It will then commence a back and forward motion which will cover a field a mile square, plowing it up as if for potatoes, killing everybody on the land, burying each one and leaving a piece of shell to mark the head of each grave.

He has tested the shell and has found that it does not work to his satisfaction, as it left some of his enemies alive. He will add necessary improvements.

DISASTER CAUSED BY UNKNOWN MISCREANT

Jury in the Horrible Mine Explosion at Zeigler so Decides.

THERE HAS BEEN WAR WITH MINERS' UNION.

The fearful mine explosion at Zeigler, Ill., which was chronicled in the last issue of The Bee has since been thoroughly investigated by a coroner's jury and a startling verdict rendered, which shows the desperate character of the fight that has gone on for months at that mine between the operators and their non-union employees on one side and the officers and membership of the miners' union on the other. This is the mine which Joseph Leiter owns and for the control of which he has put up a winning fight against a desperate organization, which used the same violent tactics, so far as they could, as were so generally adopted in Hopkins county during the memorable fight of 1900-1901. Any citizen of Hopkins county would easily realize that the Zeigler disaster was in all probability caused maliciously, as the jury indicate is their belief.

There were forty-three lives lost. The investigation conducted by the coroner's jury brought out testimony, the bulk of which tended to show that the deaths were chiefly due to afterdamp following an explosion of blasting powder which was exploded by some miscreant whose identity is unknown.

"We, the undersigned jurors, impaled to inquire into the cause of death of William Atkinson, John Graham, John Lindsey and others, hereby find that the said William Atkinson, John Graham and John Lindsey, came to their deaths in the Zeigler Coal Co.'s mine at Zeigler, Franklin county, Ill., on the third day of April, 1905, by being overcome by afterdamp caused by a powder explosion in said mine on the morning of April third, 1905, and we believe that said explosion was caused by parties unknown.

"And we further find that Joseph Geisler, William Baxter, Everett Jones, Rolla Campbell, Robert Davis, Jerry O. Woods, Gustave Brunlik, Charles Robinson, Robert Hare, Harry Withrow and thirty others whose names are to us unknown, came to their deaths in said mine on the third day of April, 1905, as a result of the aforementioned explosion.

"And we further believe that the said mine was in good and safe condition for working purposes, as far as gas was concerned, on April third, 1905."

It has not been possible to trace, though it is possible he perished with the other victims. There were forty-three kegs of powder in the mine at the time and two boxes of low grade dynamite. The report of the jury was as follows:

"We, the undersigned jurors, impanelled to inquire into the cause of death of William Atkinson, John Graham, John Lindsey and others, hereby find that the said William Atkinson, John Graham and John Lindsey, came to their deaths in the Zeigler Coal Co.'s mine at Zeigler, Franklin county, Ill., on the third day of April, 1905, by being overcome by afterdamp caused by a powder explosion in said mine on the morning of April third, 1905, and we believe that said explosion was caused by parties unknown.

"And we further find that Joseph Geisler, William Baxter, Everett Jones, Rolla Campbell, Robert Davis, Jerry O. Woods, Gustave Brunlik, Charles Robinson, Robert Hare, Harry Withrow and thirty others whose names are to us unknown, came to their deaths in said mine on the third day of April, 1905, as a result of the aforementioned explosion.

"And we further believe that the said mine was in good and safe condition for working purposes, as far as gas was concerned, on April third, 1905."

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION

FORGOT HIS NAME.

Stories That Are Told of Josiah Quincy's Absent-mindedness.

The absent-mindedness of distinguished men, however much it may be a source of annoyance to themselves, serves to furnish the public with entertainment. Many venerable anecdotes still in circulation, plain and with variations, are based on this weakness of men of genius. The oft told story of the man who forgets his own name is one of them. It is told of many famous personages and doubtless of more than one of them with truth. Josiah Quincy, president of Harvard college, is one of the number. Of him the accepted form is that he could not recall what he had written, the information given him requested him to leave his name for another on whom he had called until still another person passing by paused to speak and addressed him as "President Quincy."

"The very name I was trying to remember!" exclaimed the absent-minded president, with vast relief.

A little known and far more interesting, if less amusing, story of his forgetfulness was recently related by one who in turn had had it from his father, present as a boy when the incident occurred. Mr. Quincy on a notable occasion was prepared to address a great meeting in Franklin hall, and he stepped into several into two divisions. He delivered the first part and began the second.

"At that time, gentlemen," he said, and stopped. He paused, repeated, "At that time, gentlemen," and stopped again. A third time he repeated the phrase. But what should have followed had gone completely from his mind and could not be recalled, and he took his seat in confusion and distress.

It was more than an awkward situation for the chairman of the meeting, Harrison Gray Otis, and for the great silent audience—it was a painful one. But Mr. Otis, rising and stepping forward, announced quietly that if the eloquent speaker required time to collect his thoughts before proceeding there was no doubt that all would willingly wait for him if it were till midnight. "But should he proceed no further," he added, "what he has said has been so clear, so cogent and so convincing that he may rest assured he has already satisfied every man present—except himself!"—Youth's Companion.

Smallpox Epidemic in Christian County Cost $6,500.

The County Fiscal Court, eight members and County Judge W. T. Frazier, met and began in session all this week, says the Hopkinsville Kentuckyian of April 8, the principal business being the settlement of the expenses growing out of the smallpox epidemic last fall and winter.

The heaviest items were for the hospital expenses at Concord and Gracey and for part of the Cedar Grove hospital's cost. These claims were allowed and also a large number of accounts presented by physicians for vaccinations under the court's orders. Drug bills were also very heavy, and account was rendered for 1,000 doses of smallpox vaccine at the value of $700. Up to Thursday appropriations for these various days aggregated $5,000 and other smaller bills pending yesterday and the $700 bill referred to above will bring the total to about $5,000, representing all expenses growing out of the prevalence of a smallpox in the county last year.

The court is still in session today disposing of routine matters. The County levy will be laid before adjournment this afternoon.

RAILROAD YARNS.

For the Henderson Division Boys.

An old railroad man and a man almost equally experienced in the navigation and management of large steamers were seated in the winter office of a local company discussing the vicissitudes of railroad and steamboat operations in the winter and swapping reminiscences when they thought their skins before the radiator. Their conversation led from the discussion of frozen harbors and the best way of breaking ice to stories of big snowdrifts and blockades on the railroads.

The talk gradually worked around to a wreck on the main line of the Southern, a short time ago, and the steamboat man said that he preferred traveling by water as the safest means of transportation. "In winter," said he, "you never can tell when there's going to be a broken rail or some other defect in the track caused by the extreme cold, and when I travel in a Pullman every extra hard jolt brings me upon the alert; while if I go on board the boat and turn in I sleep as sound as a ditch. I suppose the water in the sea may be or the boat toss about."

"Well," said the old railroad man, "I feel just the other way about it. I don't look for broken or spreading rails near so much in the winter when the weather is cold as I do along in March, when the frost is coming out of the ground and the upheavals throw the rails out of plumb almost any time. Then look out. I've seen some mighty bad wrecks the cause of which could never be given."

"Some mighty mishaps occur on railroads sometimes. I remember once a good many years ago—in fact, it was when Gov. Dingley occupied the chair at the State house—that there was a queer wreck on the road from Bowling Green to Lexington. The train was made up of a baggage car, a smoker and passenger car. The train was bowling along at about twenty miles an hour when, all at once, the passenger car broke away from the rest of the train, jumping the iron and went skidding alongside the track. The car did not stop over and neither passengers nor car were injured. The rest of the train backed up and the passengers in the derailed car got aboard the train and went on to Lewiston, having been delayed only about fifteen minutes. 'The people didn't know what caused the car to leave the iron,' and to a person not accustomed to inspecting railroad tracks the rails appeared to be in good condition, but I saw where the outside rail on the curve should have been a little higher than the inside, it was lower and the car had just jumped the track and kept going on its own course."

"One other time, I believe, a year or two ago happened on a railroad wagon at a junction down near Brunswick. The train was bound up to Augusta, and was going along at a good rate of speed when it struck the switch, where the other line started for Bath. Instead of keeping on its course with its fellows, one of the big drive wheels of the engine took the rail for Bath, and started down that track, breaking clear from the engine. The train kept going on its original course, but that big wheel was rolling off on a tangent toward the shipping point."

"Well," said the steamboat man, "I say, if you travel in a Pullman, you'll be safe enough, but if you travel on a railroad once myself. It was down on the Buckport branch, and there was one curve down their below South Orrington, where the track came pretty near doubling on itself. Well, we were going down one morning, going at a fair rate of speed, when all at once I noticed car wheels alongside the track. The train was made up of a number of freight cars, an accommodation car and a baggage car. Some of those freight cars had been cut out of the middle of the train and toppled over the back, leaving the engine and the other cars on the track. The train was equipped with emergency brakes and of course the cars were immediately brought to a standstill. Then the engine backed up and made connections and the train proceeded to 'Buckport.'

"One of the strangest mishaps I ever saw on a railroad happened to a train I was riding on, bound from Augusta to Boston. The old man who was driving it was a good many years ago when the engines were not built as they are to-day and such an occurrence now would be a wonder of the age. We had been going along at a good rate of speed when the train suddenly came to a stop.

I knew we were not near any station, so I went ahead through the baggage car to the engine to see what was the matter. Well, sir, the drive wheels on one side of that engine lay in the snow alongside the track, still connected with the engine by the piston rod, but the axles, which were nearly six inches through and solid iron, were snapped off. The engine was still on the iron and did not appear to be injured in any other way. We got word to Brunswick and were towed in after a few hours' wait."

"Yes," said the old railroad man, "I guess you can see that the engine must have run into the snowbank and it is hard to account for many of the accidents that occur. Still, it is said it is the unexpected that always turns up, and this is certainly true in railroading. But it's a great life and only old age will make a man give up after he has been long in the service."

Kentucky College Association Formed.

Lexington, Ky., April 8.—An association to be known as the Kentucky College Association was formed here to-day by members of the faculty of Central Kentucky College, the object being to encourage measures for the general advancement of educational interests in Kentucky and to promote the efficiency and the welfare of secondary schools of the state by establishing uniform standards of instruction.

The meeting was attended by about forty professors, and after the formation of the association President James K. Patterson, of the Kentucky State College, was elected president; Prof. L. V. Dodge, of Berea College, vice-president, and Prof. Arthur Yeager, of Georgetown College, secretary and treasurer. Three members were elected to serve as the Executive Committee for the ensuing year. They are Prof. J. L. Weber, Kentucky Wesleyan College; the Rev. B. A. Jenks, Kentucky University; the Rev. F. W. Hinitt, Center College, Danville. The new association was tendered a banquet to-night by the two local institutions, the State College and the Kentucky University.

CONTROVERSY AT NEBO.

Contributor Defends the Attitude of the Board of Trustees.

Editor Bee.

In the Nebo letter to the Hustler last week, there were some statements which we think did our Board of Trustees great injustice.

We elected the Board to attend to the affairs of the town and after a patient investigation they had their yard fences in the street. They employed a good surveyor, gave him the plat of the town, and told him to find the streets. After a fair and impartial survey he found that various ones were encroaching on the street. A second surveyor was called and found the same thing; the third survey was made with a like result.

A large part of our people moved their fences back, a few allowed theirs to remain.

Why blame the Trustees? They did not plot the town.

Was it right for the Board of Trustees to allow the streets to remain obstructed?

Were the Board to blame because people had placed their yard fences in the street?

How does that kill a town by requiring the street to be open and up the way that the plat of the town called for?

And then the dog law. Some time last year great anxiety was felt in regard to mad dogs, and as there was a great many worthless dogs here the Board passed an Act (extending over a period of ninety days) requiring the Marshal to kill all un-muzzled dogs. As to how that hurt the trade of Nebo we fail to see. Nearly all of our people owned dogs, some owned several; and they were running in the streets, laying around the well, running walls, breaking into yards, and generally acting like scum and doing other devilment. The Board passed an Act requiring them to be kept inside. We fail to see how that has injured the trade of Nebo.

Agreeably nearly every family owned a cow, some more than one, and they not only trespassed on the yards and gardens of Nebo, but of the surrounding country. We fail to see where a lot of old cows and hogs running loose and besetting the streets would induce trade. We fail to see how that has injured the trade of Nebo.

trade in Nebo because there are no hogs or cows in the streets?

In fact, we deny that trade has been injured. We have the statement from at least three-fourths of our business men that trade was better the last twelve months than ever before.

We do not think that is treating our town or its Trustees right and make statements derogatory to the town. A. B. C.

Excellent Spring Tonic.

On the approach of spring, warm days, sunshiny and balmy air, most people think they must take a tonic or a blood purifier of some sort.

They feel so languid, so tired, so good for nothing, that they are sure they need some sort of medicine to tone up their system and give them new zest in life.

One of the best tonics we know of, one that goes far ahead of any botanized tonic or blood medicine to be found in the drug store, is simply to eat in the drug store, is simply to eat out doors and go to work.

You have been staying in the house too much, eating too much, not having bodily assimilated, eating concentrated, heat producing foods.

You have had very little exercise and your system has become clogged, and the organs of the body are torpid and unable to do their work properly.

Open up your windows and doors and let the sun and air get in and purify and renovate your houses, and while it is doing that you just go out doors and go to work at some thing.

Clean up your backyard. Dig out the old cane, grass, stones and sticks; rake up all the litter and break it up out of it. Then sweep the yard nice and clean. Select a spot for it for a flower garden or a vegetable patch. Get a spade and spade up the earth, pulverize it and get it in good condition.

Now plant some flowers, seeds, Larkspur, marigolds, sweet-williams, pinks, verbena, poppies, primroses, four o'clocks, ragged robin, hollyhocks—good old-fashioned flowers that will give you bloom and beauty all summer long. The dismal, narrow backyard of the city can be turned into a beautiful, refreshing spot.

Of course, if you live in the country, where there is plenty of space, you could go a little farther, and, in addition to the flower garden, have a vegetable garden also. A little work morning and evening and you can have fresh lettuce, young onions, peas, tomatoes and many other vegetables all summer long.

And all this time you are getting your spring tonic. Outdoor work. After a few hours work digging in the fresh earth and breathing the outdoor air the languid, tired feeling will disappear and you will begin to feel the exhilaration of your exercise. At noontime, instead of saying you have no appetite, eat anything, you will be ready to eat anything set before you, and relish it too.

But in the springtime leave off the heavy, heating food of winter and eat plentifully of vegetables and fruits.

Lettuce, celery, spinach, greens—these are splendid tonics as well as healthful food.

Just simply go outdoors and go to work at something, eat plenty of fruit and vegetables, drink plenty of water between meals, and you will forget that you ever thought you needed a tonic. You will be getting, you will be getting, right along with your work, and at the same time will be beautifying your surroundings and beautifying your home—a more sanitary place to live.

Yes, just go out and clean up things, whitewash the back fence or that old shed, rake out the dirt and burn up the trash, and you will find it a better spring tonic than any that was ever put up in bottles to ornament the druggist's shelf.

Best Cough Medicine for Children.

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can trust, one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is unquestionably harmless.

You want one that is pleasant to take.

Chamberlin's Cough Remedy meets all of these conditions.

There is nothing so good for the cough as Chamberlin's Cough Remedy.

It is also a certain preventive and cure for croup, and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough.

It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success.

The trustees of the Johns Hopkins university selected Dr. Llewellyn Franklin Baker, of the University of Chicago, to the professorship of medicine, made vacant by Dr. William Osler's resignation.

The Sins of the Parent FREQUENTLY FALL UPON THE CHILDREN

Especially terrible does it seem that children should be born into the world—they frequently are—having in their little innocent bodies the germs of Specific Blood Poison, or, more frequently, Scrofula, which is, as a rule, the result of Specific Blood Poison in some ancestor.

It would be an outlook almost too intolerable to contemplate if such scourges as scrofula and other forms of blood poisoning were incurable.

Yet for long centuries these diseases have baffled the most skillful medical science.

Men and women in the past have resorted to cures for these diseases which were almost as obnoxious and dangerous as the disease itself.

The taking into the system of mercury and other mineral drugs cannot be too strenuously condemned and avoided in such cases.

That a cure, absolute and sure, can be effected is evidenced by the following letter, telling of the result of taking

FOERG'S REMEDY

Ocoee, Tenn., Aug. 13th, 1908

To Whom It May Concern:

I desire to call your attention to a fact that was badly afflicted with Scrofula. After trying three of the best doctors we could employ they continued to set worse all the while. I was advised by a friend to try Foerg's Remedy, so I procured one bottle, and it has cured them sound and well. This was four years ago, and no sign of return, so I cannot say too much for this medicine.

This is a true copy of statement sent us by Mr. Courtney, and is in his own handwriting.

BOND OF $10,000

Forfeited by American Book Company.—

Refuses to Make New One.

Frankfort, Ky., April 8.—The full amount of the bond executed by the American Book Company to the State of Kentucky on contracts secured by it under the old county adoption system law in force at the time of the passage of the State uniform system, of books, $10,000, having been forfeited to it by the county of Mason under a recent decision of the Court of Appeals for breach of contract, that company has refused to execute a new bond, and State Superintendent Fugua is out today in a circular letter to County Superintendents calling their attention to the fact and directing them to discontinue the use of books under such contracts, and to substitute therefor the corresponding books of the State Uniform Series. The refusal of the American Book Company to execute a new bond affects about eighty counties in the State, fully that number being now under contract with that company under the old law.

BABY TUCKER'S WONDERFUL CURE

Covered from Head to Foot with Humours—Forty Boils on Head at One Time—Doctors and Drug Bills $100—Baby Grew Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA
FOR FIVE DOLLARS

Mrs. George H. Tucker, Jr., 335 Greenfield Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., is a grateful mother. "When six months old," she says, "my baby was sick almost all the time, and had a fever for a half less than at birth. When one month old a scab formed on her face, spreading until it completely covered her from head to foot, followed by boils, having forty on her head at one time, and when her skin started to dry up, and it became so bad she could not shut her eyes to sleep. One medicine after another, Ointment and Ointment made a complete cure, and how my child is as large, strong, and healthy as any child of her age. The doctor's and drug bills were over one hundred dollars, and my baby grew worse all the time. Then we spent less than five dollars for Cuticura and cured her."

CUTICURA A BLESSING To Skin-Tortured Babies and Tired Mothers.

The suffering which Cuticura Soap and Ointment have alleviated among the young, and especially those afflicted by out-and-out parents, have led to their adoption in countless homes as priceless curatives for many humors, such as, milk crust, scald head, diarrhea, rashes, and even forms of itching, scaly, pimpy skin, and scab humors, with loss of hair, of infancy and childhood. Guaranteed absolute safety.

HORACE GREELEY.

A Gentle, Brusque and Welcome Farmhouse Intruder.

"When Horace Greeley was first married and brought his bride home on a visit," said an old acquaintance, "he was a very gay fellow in their honor on a neighboring farm. All the guests had arrived, and we were looking out, watching for the belated bride and groom. At last we saw something appearing in the distance. As this same object came nearer we discovered it was the old white horse of the Greeleys slowly picking his way through the mud. On his back sat the bride in a brilliant yellow frock, with a green velvet belt, and behind her, wrapped in his famous white overcoat, sat the editor of the New York Tribune. It was the first sight I ever saw and set off in fits of mirth. I recollect that I simply lay down and rolled upon the floor in a spasm of mirth."

"Sir, Greeley came home every year and after a day or two on the farm would start out to walk miles and call on people. He was never known to knock at a farmhouse door. No matter whether he knew the inmates or not he would push open the door, walk right in, sit down by the fireplace and fall to discussing crops and other topics dear to the farmer's heart. Everybody was glad to welcome this gentle, brusque intruder."

Secret of Longevity.

A London newspaper has been asking a number of very old men for the secret of their long life. The replies are of the sort commonly heard. One lives long because he has taken wine every day in moderation, another because he has never tasted wine. One finds sovereign virtue in moderate physical exercise; another convinced that he lived long because he kept his quiet and life and activity all of which means that each man who followed his natural inclination, never exceeded the measure fixed by good sense and reality thought little or nothing about it.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Something Wanted.

An aged old man is cranky, was sitting alone in his room. His toes with the went adding, and his face was unexpressed with gloom, no little ones' shouts to disturb him from the names the house was free. In fact, from reflect to atic twas as still as still could be. No medical aid was lacking; his servants answered his calls, respectfully answered his orders and supplied him with everything. But still there was something wanted, which he could not command—the kindly words of compassion, the touch of a gentle hand. And he said, as his brow grew darker and he rang for the hiring nurse. "Well, marriage may be a failure, but this is a jolly short worse."

Observations in Brief.

Many saloonkeepers are loon keepers.

That man does well who tries to do better.

Thus flies—and the strenuous fly with it.
The flame of true love never ends in smoke.

Even a block-head may have good timber in him.

The devil is not uneasy about that man who body calls on God to damn the soul of another.

Don't borrow money! Don't borrow trouble! The man who borrows money may be borrowing trouble.

When you have a good notion to do something you ought not do, don't do it. It is not a good notion.

Because there exist in certain localities "blind pigs" is no reason that the officers of the law should be blind, too.

There are people all about us who would strive to be that which we think they could be if they had the least idea we thought it.

Much of the money that should go into our banks to the credit of many of our young men goes there to the credit of a few saloonkeepers.

If it is your opinion that the man who has just reformed will "stick," let him know it; if it is your opinion that he will not, let him know that. He probably will not disappoint you in either case.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local application, as they cannot be cured by the removal of the outer ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the middle ear. Earache, Ear Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and if it becomes closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, the ear will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an aggravated condition of the mucous membrane.

Dragging Pains

223 Keeley St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2, 1902

I suffered with falling and convulsions, and the convulsions were pains through the grains. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. I used to know not for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui. I had tried all the common women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seems to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Agreed with Both.

Horace Greeley was the author of a great deal of editorial writing which had been often imitated, but probably never equaled. During his editorship two newspapers, neither of which was friendly to Greeley, became prominent in the city of Boston. The argument grew warmer until each paper openly called the other a liar. It was the opportunity Greeley had been waiting for. He announced in his paper that he had the honor to agree with both of his distinguished contemporaries."

Late Easter.

This year Easter Sunday comes on April 23rd. The date is later than usual. But few times in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries has Easter been so belated. In 1810 it fell on April 23rd, and on the same date in 1821, 1842, and again in 1882. In 1843 it fell on April 21st, and again in 1884. The latest Easter recorded in the two centuries thus far was in 1898, when it fell on April 25th. There will be but two more Easters on April 23rd in the twentieth century—in 1916 and 2000. In 1945 it falls on April 25th. Last year Easter came on April 30th. The earliest Easter recorded in the two centuries thus far was in 1808, when it fell on March 22.

PIANOS

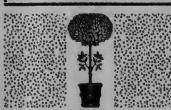

A great Variety of Them

One of the many gratifying thoughts of a man's life is when he can sit and listen to his daughter perform nicely on a piano. Another is when his earthly mission is finished he can close his eyes with the assurance that he has not withheld from daughter the opportunity for a musical education. What accomplishment can be of greater assistance to any young lady?

We are just now extending an opportunity to our friends to have a piano in their homes on the most liberal terms; $10 and up down and small monthly payments will put the piano in your home. You may have the use of it while the balance is being paid. It certainly makes piano buying easy to have the following to select from: Steinway, Steck, Conover, Schubert, Sterling, Kingsbury, Warner, Wellington, Wesser Bros. and others.

We still contend that we are in position to sell pianos, quality considered, at lower prices than any other dealer. We have convinced others.

TWO POPULAR EARLINGTON YOUNG LADIES SELECTED

AFTER TOBACCO TRUST.

Independent Dealers Say it is Violating the Law.

The Independent Tobacco Dealers Association of Chicago claims to have discovered through its secret bureau information that will lead it to take steps to have the tobacco trust investigated by the Federal authorities when it shall have indisputable evidence of the things which have come to its knowledge. It claims to have discovered also by chemical analysis, that the trust is using material positively injurious to health in its manufactures.

"Tobacco dealers have been employed by our association for some time to investigate this matter thoroughly," said the head of the publicity department of the Independent Dealers' Association. "We have endeavored to ascertain the cause of complaints made by consumers in the habit of smoking these brands. The astonishing result of the experiments was that out of seven different brands five were found to be injurious, while the other two contained only the cheapest grades of American and unrefined tobacco, which is itself dangerous to the health of the smoker."

"This partly explains the seductive and impossible prices made in the trust stores on goods at six and eight cents that are supposed to be worth ten to fifteen cents, but in reality are worth from three to five cents. Irrespective of these prices, which are calculated to catch the bargain hunter, such goods should be debarred entirely from the open market at any price."

DO YOU WANT FRIENDS?

You can get them by being a friend.

tongued "knows-it-all" must give it away. "The better-than-anybody-else" chap hears a person believed to be his friend, praised. He admits that the party named is all right enough, "but"—Too bad, of course. Nobody feels it more keenly than the "better than anybody else" fellow. The party in question is his friend—"but"—The person thus named may be the one serving the malingerer to the best of his ability, putting shucks in his coffers, obtaining honors he does not deserve. The fellow that "Knows it all" and the fellow "better than anybody else" cannot be a friend. Friendship is not for narrow, self-seeking souls. "Friendship" says Junius, "is too pure a pleasure for a mind cumbered with ambition or the lust of power and grandeur." An old Scotch proverb has it right: "Friendship cannot stand a no-aside." It takes more to sustain a friendship than among the dexterous, the untruthful, the dishonest, and no moral leper ever obtained it.

Do you want friends? Be a friend.

Ascertaining losses by war operations is a very difficult task, and yet approximate results have been secured. It is noteworthy, but no occasion for surprise, that the number killed and wounded in war during 1904 greatly exceeds that of 1903 by reason of the sanguinary contest between Japan and Russia, in which lives have been recklessly sacrificed. The total loss for the year is about 400,000, compared with 86,000 in 1903, 35,000 in 1902 and 3,000 in 1901.

The most common adulteration of butter is the use of artificial coloring matters. Formerly only vegetable colors such as annatto were employed, but in late years the development of the chemistry of dye stuffs has offered to the dairyman many beautiful yellow dyes, which are not only cheaper but more easily mixed with the fat than the old-fashioned vegetable colors. In the United States, especially, has the art of butter coloring been pushed to an almost unlimited extent, and it is difficult to find upon our markets uncolored butter, even in June.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT

Humane Education.

We are all thoroughly agreed that the chief object or one of the chief objects of school education is good morals, and I believe we are also agreed that the giving of moral culture is the teacher's most difficult task. I wish to suggest a few ways to make this difficult task easier, as I assume that all agree as to the value and necessity of humane education.

What to do—depends on the objects of humane education, which are in brief these:

(1.) Practical knowledge about the care of domestic animals, the value of birds to the farmers, and like subjects.

(2.) The prevention of the suffering of animals.

(3.) Training in thoughtfulness, sympathy and mercy, for the prevention of all cruelty towards either man or beast.

Now how shall all of this be done, in a general way by leading the pupil to know what to do and what not to do; by interesting him in animals and creating in him a love for them; by cultivating a strong sense of right, and a tendency toward kindness.

But specifically how shall this be done? In four ways: indirectly, incidentally, by correlation and by direct teaching.

We can teach kindness to animals indirectly by our example and character.

Probably the most work in humane education can be done by correlation, or uniting it with the regular studies of the school. It can be joined very easily with work in literature, reading, language and nature study.

Pedagogues and Pupils.

Teacher—What animal has more brains than a man?

Smart Pupil—The hog.

"Why do you think so?"

"Because he has a hoghead full, See?"

"A short time ago," says a school teacher, "I was giving a lesson on the use of the 'hyphen.' Having written a number of examples on the blackboard, the first of which was 'bird cage.' I asked the boys to give a reason for putting the hyphen between 'bird' and 'cage.' After a short silence, one boy, who is among the dunces, held up his hand, and said: 'It is for the bird to perch on, sir.'"

A teacher of a class was disturbed by giggling among certain boys and called upon one of the culprits to tell him the cause. "Please, sir," responded the lad, "Turner says he knows of a baby who was fed on elephant's milk and gained ten pounds a day." "Turner," said the teacher, sternly, "you should not tell lies." "But it's true, sir!" rejoined the pupil. "Whose baby was it?" "The elephant's, sir," replied the lad.

Another teacher was giving a lesson on the circulation of the blood. Trying to make the matter clearer, he said: "Now, boys, if I stood on my head the blood, as you know, would run into it, and I should turn red in the face." "Yes, sir," said the boys. "Now," continued the teacher, "what I want to know is this: How is it that while I am standing upright in the ordinary position the blood doesn't run into my feet?" A little fellow shouted: "Why, sir, because your feet ain't empty!"

The board of education of Bowling Green, Ky., has ordered the erection of a new brick public school building which is made necessary by the increased attendance under the compulsory educational law. An order was also made that after the present term on teacher should be employed that has passed the age fifty years. The entire corps of teachers has been composed of females, with the exception of the superintendent. In the future one male teacher will be employed at each school building.

An interesting addition to the course of instruction in the public schools of Vienna is to be made by providing classes in four districts to overcome the defects in speech of children who stutter. The length of the course is to be given during two hours of each week day.

German Commercial High Schools.
In the educational system of Germany the commercial high schools rank with the higher institutions of learning. They stand on the same level as the celebrated technical high schools, agricultural high schools and universities. Admission can be gained only through graduation from some nine-year secondary school, like the classical Gymnasium; the semi-classical Realgymnasium; and the non-classical Ober-Realschule; or through graduation from a six-year secondary school coupled with practical experience; or, in case of foreigners, an equivalent education.

These institutions are of extremely recent development, all having been established within the last five years. At present there are four commercial high schools (Handelsschulen) in the German Empire, founded as follows: Leipzig, 1898; Frankfort, 1898; Aix la Chapelle, 1898; and Cologne, 1901. A fifth school of this grade is to be opened in Berlin next year.

In Germany education invests a man with a peculiar social prestige, irrespective of his personality. A certain social status attaches to his formal intellectual attainments, as evidenced by his diplomas. That the lack of this diplomas. That the lack of this social recognition and prestige is a serious handicap to a merchant, both in a private and in a business capacity, requires no elucidation. The removal of this handicap was possibly only through graduation from some higher institution.

Since Germany at the time of the agitation for a commercial high school wholly lacked an opportunity for such a higher education which might with profit be pursued by young men of the mercantile class, in the estimation of leading commercial thinkers and educators, the idea of a commercial high school, equal in rank with the universities and technical high schools, received a warm welcome from all sides.

The habit that many lady school teachers have of alluding to their pupils as "my boys," "my girls" or "my children" sometimes brings about embarrassing situations. At least it did to a pretty little primary teacher in the Cairo public schools, who covered herself with confusion recently by forgetting that an entire stranger would have no reason to know that she is a teacher in charge of a room full of youngsters when at her post of duty. Passing through a train on a trip she saw a man whom she took for an acquaintance and spoke to him before realizing that he was in an absolute stranger, and not the man she supposed: To explain her error she smiled sweetly and astounded the stranger and herself afterwards, by saying: "I beg your pardon, but I took you for the father of one of my children."

It is officially announced that 16 teachers in the Englewood (N. J.) public schools will marry in June and retire from school work. Elizabeth N. J., reports 18 vacancies for the same reason.

Fervor of Youth.

A school teacher was trying to impress upon a pupil's mind that Columbus discovered America in 1492, so he said: "Now, John, to make you remember the date when Columbus discovered America I will make it in a rhyme so you won't forget it. 'In 1492 Columbus sailed the ocean blue.' Now, can you remember that, John?" "Yes, sir," replied John. The next morning when he came to school his teacher said: "John, when did Columbus discover America?" "In 1493 Columbus sailed the dark blue sea."

Education not only develops the mind but it enables you to do things with less mental and physical labor.

It would be well for teachers to remember that every child is naturally good, not bad. Nature has no "bad" things. A child may be disobedient, impudent, lazy, or even criminal, but it is the product of error somewhere. The complex thing called "child" is the product of many forces, some of which are very subtle. We should not be hasty to condemn a child when his "badness" is either merely the folly of childhood, or even something beyond his control. Keep the great end of all good teaching in view; be patient; be sympathetic; work hard, and trust the results. Remember that the school itself is a transforming power.

There are at present 140 Filipino students in the various colleges and universities throughout the United States. Each student is allowed $500 per year by the insular government to pay expenses, and 80 different schools have these pupils. They have been allowed to select their own studies, according to their aspirations, and the following is the distribution:

Nominal schools, 30; Engineering, 27; Agriculture, 18; Commercial colleges, 10; Law, 8; Medicine, 6; Art, 2; Domestic Science, 2; Architecture, 1; Printing, 1 and General courses, 36. Fifty more young men will be sent over next year. There is not a student in a Kentucky college.

A Brooklyn school teacher sends some answers given by boys in her class in an examination: "What are zones?" Zones are belts running around the earth, giving out heat as they run."

"What do we import from Italy?" Italyans.

"Of what is the earth composed?" "Sand, water, air and human beans."

"What causes a fog?" "The night before."

Ballard's Horseshoe Syrup.

Immediately relieves hoarse, cough, oppressed breathing, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry C. Stearns, Druggist, Shublburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1901: "I have used your Horseshoe Bound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that you sell it in small bottles that cost 25¢, 50¢, $1.00."

Now is the Time to Beautify Earlington.

Now is the time to all come forward—all ought to be concerned—to begin to beautify the city. We do not mean for anyone to go from home to do cleaning. Let every one see to it that his or her premises are put in the cleanest possible condition. This is a duty every one owes the city and to himself. A clean place is a lovely place, however humble. A dirty place is an offense to nature, however spacious. So let every one for himself see to it that his premises are put in a clean condition. So doing he will set an example to his neighbor besides he will feel better and his wife will think the better of him. Also, everyone would be glad to live in a place that is in order in the city would soon have an attractive appearance and would invite people from the country to come and dwell with us.

DOG AND PONY SHOW COMING.

Seibel Bros. Animal Actors Will Exhibit Here Matinee and Night.

"Are you going to the dog and pony show on Monday, April 17th?" is the question being asked each other by almost every youngster in town. And interesting reply is in the negative too. The reply is in the negative too. The animal actors number 150 and they travel in several Pullman palace cars. There are 75 ponies, 50 dogs and 25 monkeys on board. As the ring performance is under the direction of D. G. Markee, who is recognized as America's foremost animal educator, it could not help being first-class. A feature of the performance is a children's riding academy, to which every youngster attending the matinee performance is invited to enjoy. The ponies are bridled and saddled and are in charge of competent attendants, and the youngsters are permitted to ride to their heart's content.

A GREAT OUTPUT OF PRECIOUS GOLD

General Increase in Every Mining District Where the Yellow Stuff Is Found.

NEVADA TELLS OF RICH VEINS HERETOFORE UNDISCOVERED.

The Great Output Will Not Decrease the Price of Gold, But May Result in the Increase in Price of Commodities—The Opinion of the Director of the Mint.

Washington, April 12.—According to the mint, there will be no greater production of gold in the United States this year than ever before in the history of the country. Reports from Nevada tell of rich veins heretofore undiscovered and indicate enormous output.

Nevada threatens to outstrip all others in the production of gold, and there is a general increase in the amount mined in every mineral district where the yellow metal is found.

This outlook has caused a great deal of comment in certain financial circles as to the effect the increase will have upon the value of gold, and whether the standard will be lowered.

Experts predict a production anywhere from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 worth of gold this year and next, and a great many persons, with these figures in mind, feel that the result will be a depreciation in the value of gold.

This fear is not well grounded, according to the mint. There can hardly be any direct decrease in the value of gold, they say, and hence the standard can not be lowered.

Nevertheless, it is true that any large increase in the production of the yellow treasure will affect the value of gold to the extent of raising the price of commodities, and thereby necessitating the use of more money to purchase things which now come at low prices.

Director Roberts of the mint bureau said this was the only way an over-production of gold could affect its price.

"A great increase in the output of gold," said Mr. Roberts, "means the coining of a proportionate number of coins. There is no limit set by law upon the amount of gold which may be put in circulation."

"The same time than an unexpected output of gold will result in the coinage of more gold. It necessarily follows that there will be more money in circulation. The banks will have more money to loan, and currency will be put in circulation."

"The consequence of this would be that prices will increase, and it will take more gold to purchase a commodity than before the money was so plentiful."

The production of gold in the United States amounted to $80,000,000, while in 1903 the output was valued at $73,501,700. The figures for 1904 are not yet available, but they will show a large increase, possibly greater than in 1903, which was a very prosperous year in mineral districts.

PEOPLE LOST THEIR HEADS.

Grotesque Creation in a Kokomo, Ind., Theater By the Ignition of a Roll of Moving Picture Films.

Kokomo, Ind., April 11.—George Armstrong, 17 years old, was fatally injured and a score of persons severely burned, at night, during a fire in the Sipe theater, which was caused by the ignition of a roll of celluloid film used in operating a moving picture machine. In the panic that followed, Armstrong jumped through a window in the rear of the theater and was

MANY THOUSANDS KILLED

The Earthquake in Asia Proves to Be an Awful Disaster.

Cities and Towns Demolished, and Their Unfortunate Inhabitants Killed and Buried in the Rubbs.

Silma, India, April 11.—Late reports show the dead in the ruins of two Indian towns demolished by earthquakes to reach the enormous total of 14,500. It is probable that even this figure will be swelled when more information is obtained.

Splendid stone palaces of the Europeans, built to withstand wind storms, have been demolished, and the falling of their walls caused the greatest loss of life. The earth is still quaking, and natives are fleeing to lower lands.

The earthquake disaster at Dharmasala is dwarfed by reports of horrors from the orchard-clad Kangra valley. This is the remote mountain home of the Gurkhas.

The digging out of the dead is a most difficult task, as the few remaining natives were so terror-stricken that they absolutely refused to work, and have fled into the valley.

More than 10,000 persons lost their lives in the town of Palanpur. There is now a hole left standing in the town, the population of 17,447 in the city, less than 100 are reported to have escaped unharmed.

VICE REGAL LODGE UNSAFE.

Lady Carson and Children Moved Into Another House.

Silma, India, April 9.—The vice-regal lodge here has been declared unsafe, and a number of the British and their children, and the vice-regal staff have moved into houses situated within the lodge grounds. Lady Curzon's bedroom was considerably damaged.

The shocks have ceased and the residents of Silma are reassured.

BELIEVE ALL ARE DEAD.

Hopes Abandoned For Those in the East Who Were Missing.

Lahore, April 9.—The first part of the relief expedition sent out to the district where the greatest havoc was wrought by the recent earthquake has reached Dhamarsala.

Their report shows they found an awful scene of destruction. It is not believed any of the persons buried in the ruins are alive.

Six hundred pioneers and two companies of Engineers have been ordered to Dhamarsala to exhume the dead.

It is believed the horrors of Dhamarsala have been repeated in Kangra.

ATTACKED THE DEATH WATCH.

Arthur Lester, Sentenced to Hang, Made Things Lively For a Time, at Paterson, N. J.

Paterson, N. J., April 11.—Arthur Lester, sentenced to be hanged next Friday, made a desperate attempt to break for liberty. He shot two deputy sheriffs on the death watch, but failed to get away, and was finally clubbed into unconsciousness by policemen whom the deputy sheriffs called to their aid. Neither of the injured deputies will die.

The stock law is attracting considerable attention just at present and hard words are being used and hard feelings have arisen as a consequence that will take time to rectify.

In a conversation with our friend, Dave G. Barnett, he said that if the Republican party of Hopkins county offered him the nomination for County Clerk, he would accept and make a better race in his power. He is well qualified for the position and is a sober, steady young man. He is a self-made man and deserves encouragement.

Mrs. Hartman, an aged widow and one among the oldest inhabitants, died Monday, after an illness of only a few hours. She was nearly 84 of age. She leaves a son and daughter to mourn her loss. She was a devoted member of M. E. Church. Funeral services were conducted by Bro. King at her home here, after which she was buried at the Union graveyard.

Men Fast Sixty in Danger.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is a serious disease and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many cases. Dr. W. H. Moore, Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years, but after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, though I am now 91 years old." Said Dr. Jno. X. Taylor.

The Resurrection Flower, the Lily

By GEORGE H. PICARD

HOW IT IS RAISED

Copyright, 1905, by George H. Picard

THE lily has long been the resurrection flower of the Christian churches. It is a distinctive beauty, and is often used on Easter morning, especially in the early morning, when there is no breeze to waft it seaward. Passengers on the steamers which ply between the various ports of the group can easily recognize this sacred flower.

The lily plantanum retains their beauty for several weeks. Finally, however, the stalk withers and dries up, and all the remaining energy of the plant is devoted to the formation of bulbils.

During the latter part of June the blossoms begin. This is decidedly reminiscent of the annual potato digging at the north. All the stems attached to lily culture gives place to a very keen and careful competition to the last blossom.

As the bulbs are taken from the ground they are sorted into their various classes by expert hands and carefully packed in boxes, each one wrapped in a protective covering of dried sphagnum, and are shipped to America and are continued until the latter part of August.

Underseeded bulbs and those reserved for next season's planting stock are packed in sand which has been dried to prevent germination. These are stored until they are permitted to rest for two months before the fall planting begins.

When the lily bulbs reach the great importing centers they are handled with great promptness. The importers forward them in great quantities to New York and Boston, who have placed advance orders, and they are referred to all descriptions of growers. The annual lily crop brings the Bermudian farmers at least $250,000, and the bulbs and flowers retained in American cities alone amount to more than $500,000. This seems a large sum to be derived from merchandise so evanescent and perishable. A masterful grower of bulbs must measure at least five inches in circumference. Propagated from a scale—the technical name for one of the external accretions to the parent bulb—at least three years of growth and cultivation are necessary before it can be marketed as a bulb. A seven or eight inch bulb is divided into seven, seven to nine and nine to eleven. These designations represent the average circumferences of the bulb. In length, the first seven inches should have five or six perfect petals. A seven to nine inch bulb, if given liberal treatment, will yield seven or eight flowers. The largest size lily bulb is expected to furnish ten to sixteen extra large blossoms. The prices of flowers are graded according to their size.

The stock used to keep up the success of bulbs derived from the smaller ones, as a rule. Sometimes, however, it becomes necessary to vary the price of the larger bulbs and to pay the larger bulbs for preparing purposes. When this happens the price of mature lily bulbs soars upward, and the supply is visibly diminished. The lily crop is planted in October, and the labor of preparing the soil and putting the bulb in the ground is done by the negro farmers, who are sometimes in the employ of the greatly lily planters and sometimes till their own freehold fields. After the crop is raised it is required to keep the growing plants free from weeds. The warm sun and the humid climate are depended upon to do the rest, and they rarely fail to do their part in the interesting process.

In February or very early in March the blossoms open, and in about four weeks it is time to remember all sorts of the larger farms. The flower was promoted greatly in New York by a Chinese florist in the late 1800s. Most of the factory of it is now located in New Jersey, having developed on British soil.
